I like the idea of doing "Tinder for sports", where you can connect with sports interested people doing the same types of sports as you. I think for people being new in town this can help pretty much to network and find new friends.

The map with the sports clubs in town is also really nice, but should be filled with additional information that someone can't get over other services, or it should provide the information in a well structured way so its not just another copy of google maps.

I dind't see a section where you can chat with matched people but this might be a work in progress feature.
